MVP outreach handbook template draft

The initial-email runtime copy is in outreach/handbook/prelaunch_initial.txt; keep it aligned with this review document when changing the wording. The sender-specific values remain outside the repository in .secrets/pilot_handbook.json.

Status: pre-launch template for founder review, not ready for Gmail drafting. The MVP is still being finished. This template invites a conversation next week; it does not promise a working product trial or a completed demo. The founder must fill in the offer and signature before any real draft is created.

Writing rules

1. Lead with one natural sentence about the prospect's company, supported by a quote and URL from its own site. Do not infer its finances, software, or operational problems.
2. Say what Lakshyaa is being built to help with, and disclose that the MVP is still being finished. Invite a conversation next week; do not claim they can use a finished product now. Do not promise faster payment, savings, or an integration unless verified.
3. Offer a short conversation and ask for candid feedback. Interest should come from a relevant use case, not invented scarcity or a claim that the prospect needs help.
4. Give each email one clear next step. Prepare follow-ups in the same Gmail thread on the third business day after the previous email was actually sent, if there is no reply. Count Monday–Friday dates in America/New_York, with the next business date as day 1; weekends do not count. Holiday exclusions still need a calendar decision. Stop for a reply, bounce, opt-out, or hold. At most two follow-ups; the founder reviews and sends every email manually.
5. Keep the subject truthful. Include the sender's valid postal address and a clear way to opt out in every commercial email. See the FTC's CAN-SPAM guide (https://www.ftc.gov/business-guidance/resources/can-spam-act-compliance-guide-business).

Fields to fill before using the templates

Placeholder	Required meaning
[FIRST_NAME]	Contact's known first name; use a neutral greeting if unknown.
[VERIFIED_COMPANY_OBSERVATION]	One complete, relevant sentence about the prospect's company based on stored company-site evidence.
[PRODUCT_NAME]	Lakshyaa or the approved name used in the sender's offer.
[INTENDED_USE]	One accurate sentence fragment describing what Lakshyaa is being built to help with; do not present an unfinished feature as available.
[NEXT_WEEK_ACTION]	A verb phrase for a truthful next-week activity, such as "have a short conversation about an early preview." Do not promise a finished demo or live access.
[CTA_QUESTION]	One complete, answerable question asking about that next-week activity.
[SENDER_NAME]	Sender's accurate name.
[FOUNDER_TITLE]	Sender's accurate title.
[SENDER_WEBSITE]	Sender's real website URL.
[POSTAL_ADDRESS]	Sender's valid physical postal address.

The company observation and intended use need human review before they enter a draft. Hold the draft for review if either field has no verified value. Do not substitute an example from a sales book, competitor page, or industry report for either field. If the recipient replies before the MVP is ready, respond promptly and arrange a next-week conversation; do not claim that a product trial is available today. Recheck the product's actual state before every draft or send; switch to a different, approved trial invitation once a usable MVP is available.

Initial email

Subject: A conversation about [PRODUCT_NAME] next week?

Hi [FIRST_NAME],

[VERIFIED_COMPANY_OBSERVATION]

I'm building [PRODUCT_NAME] to [INTENDED_USE]. The MVP is still being finished. I'd like to invite you to [NEXT_WEEK_ACTION] and hear where this direction does or doesn't fit the way your team works.

[CTA_QUESTION]

Best,
[SENDER_NAME]
[FOUNDER_TITLE], [PRODUCT_NAME]
[SENDER_WEBSITE]
[POSTAL_ADDRESS]
If you don't want further outreach from me, reply "no thanks" and I'll stop.

Follow-up 1

Draft on the third business day after the founder sends the initial email, if there has been no reply. Keep it in the same thread; do not create a separate Re: subject.

Hi [FIRST_NAME],

Following up on my note about [PRODUCT_NAME]. If you choose to [NEXT_WEEK_ACTION], I'd value your honest reaction to the direction we're taking, including what we might be missing.

[CTA_QUESTION]

Best,
[SENDER_NAME]
[FOUNDER_TITLE], [PRODUCT_NAME]
[SENDER_WEBSITE]
[POSTAL_ADDRESS]
If you don't want further outreach from me, reply "no thanks" and I'll stop.

Follow-up 2

Draft on the third business day after the founder sends follow-up 1, if there has been no reply. Keep it in the same thread. This is the last follow-up.

Hi [FIRST_NAME],

I'll close the loop on [PRODUCT_NAME]. If you'd like to [NEXT_WEEK_ACTION], reply and I'll arrange it. If the timing isn't right, no need to respond; this is my last note.

Best,
[SENDER_NAME]
[FOUNDER_TITLE], [PRODUCT_NAME]
[SENDER_WEBSITE]
[POSTAL_ADDRESS]
If you don't want further outreach from me, reply "no thanks" and I'll stop.
